The Delaware Insurance Department receives a number of inquiries relative to approved defensive driving courses. The Department is also receiving numerous requests for approval including companies that provide their services on-line. In order to provide the most updated list to consumers, producers, agencies and insurance companies the Department has determined that the most convenient method would be to publish the list on the Department's website at www.state.de.us/inscom. The Department will continue to make lists of approved defensive driving courses available to persons who request a list from the Department.
